Prayer of the Day

Word

God speaks to us in scripture reading, preaching, and song

Children's Time

First Reading: Jeremiah 23:1-6

Today's reading builds on the common, ancient Near Eastern metaphor of the king as shepherd. Judah's unjust rulers have caused their people, their "flock," to be scattered. Nevertheless, God will raise up a new and righteous shepherd who will rule a restored Judah.

Woe to the shepherds who destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! says the Lord. Therefore, thus says the Lord, the God of Israel, concerning the shepherds who shepherd my people: It is you who have scattered my flock, and have driven them away, and you have not attended to them. So I will attend to you for your evil doings, says the Lord. Then I myself will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the lands where I have driven them, and I will bring them back to their fold, and they shall be fruitful and multiply. I will raise up shepherds over them who will shepherd them, and they shall not fear any longer, or be dismayed, nor shall any be missing, says the Lord.

The days are surely coming, says the Lord, when I will raise up for David a righteous Branch, and he shall reign as king and deal wisely, and shall execute justice and righteousness in the land. In his days Judah will be saved and Israel will live in safety. And this is the name by which he will be called: 'The Lord is our righteousness.'

L: The word of the Lord.

C: Thanks be to God.

Psalm 46

Refrain:

I will be ex - alt-ed a - mong the na - tions.

L: God is our refuge and strength,
 a very present help in trouble.

Therefore we will not fear, though the earth should change,

though the mountains shake in the heart of the sea;
though its waters roar and foam,
 though the mountains tremble with its tumult.

C: Refrain

L: There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God,
 the holy habitation of the Most High.
God is in the midst of the city; it shall not be moved;
 God will help it when the morning dawns.
The nations are in an uproar, the kingdoms totter;
 he utters his voice, the earth melts.
The Lord of hosts is with us;
 the God of Jacob is our refuge.

C: Refrain

L: Come, behold the works of the Lord;
 see what desolations he has brought on the earth.
He makes wars cease to the end of the earth;
 he breaks the bow, and shatters the spear;
 he burns the shields with fire.

C: Refrain

L: 'Be still, and know that I am God!
 I am exalted among the nations,
 I am exalted in the earth.'
The Lord of hosts is with us;
 the God of Jacob is our refuge.

C: Refrain

Second Reading: Colossians 1:11-20

An early Christian hymn praises the mystery of the political, personal, and mystical Christ, the one who was present at creation and is eternally reigning with God.

May you be made strong with all the strength that comes from his glorious power, and may you be prepared to endure everything with patience, while joyfully giving thanks to the Father, who has enabled you to share in the inheritance of the saints in the light. He has rescued us from the power of darkness and transferred us into the kingdom of his beloved Son, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of all creation; for in him all things in heaven and on earth were created, things visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or powers—all things have been created through him and for him. He himself is before all things, and in him all things hold together. He is the head of the body, the church; he is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead, so that he might come to have first place in everything. For in him all the fullness of God was pleased to dwell, and through him God was pleased to reconcile to himself all things, whether on earth or in heaven, by making peace through the blood of his cross.

L: The word of the Lord.

C: Thanks be to God.

P: The holy Gospel according to Luke, the 23rd chapter.

C: Glory to you, O Lord.

Gospel: Luke 23:33-43

Amid scoffing and slander from those who sarcastically call him Messiah and king, Jesus reveals that to be Messiah and king is to give one's life for others. Here he uses his power to welcome a despised sinner to paradise but puts his own death into God's hands.

When they came to the place that is called The Skull, they crucified Jesus there with the criminals, one on his right and one on his left. [Then Jesus said, 'Father, forgive them; for they do not know what they are doing.'] And they cast lots to divide his clothing. And the people stood by, watching; but the leaders scoffed at him, saying, 'He saved others; let him save himself if he is the Messiah of God, his chosen one!' The soldiers also mocked him, coming up and offering him sour wine, and saying, 'If you are the King of the Jews, save yourself!' There was also an inscription over him, 'This is the King of the Jews.'

One of the criminals who were hanged there kept deriding him and saying, 'Are you not the Messiah? Save yourself and us!' But the other rebuked him, saying, 'Do you not fear God, since you are under the same sentence of condemnation? And we indeed have been condemned justly, for we are getting what we deserve for our deeds, but this man has done nothing wrong.' Then he said, 'Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom.' He replied, 'Truly I tell you, today you will be with me in Paradise.'

P: The gospel of the Lord.

C: Praise to you, O Christ.

Apostle's Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, God's only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died, and was buried;

he descended to the dead.
On the third day he rose again;
he ascended into heaven,
he is seated at the right hand of the Father,
and he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and the life everlasting. Amen

A Message from Rev. Dr. Michael Pryse, Interim Executive Director, CLWR

Dear friends,

We don't speak often on political issues, but I need to share my concern with you after yesterday's federal budget announcement. The budget sees Canada stepping back significantly from its long-held commitments to providing international assistance — the kind of work CLWR does. This work represents a fraction of Canada's spending — less than 0.3% — but to people in places like Ethiopia, Haiti and Gaza, that support is life-saving.

Yesterday, I joined the leaders of more than 100 Canadian organizations in expressing concern about these cuts. You can read the letter here. But I wanted to say a bit more to you directly.

I don't envy the job of political leaders who must make difficult decisions about important and competing priorities, but I will say two things:

First, budgets are moral documents, and they shape the world in dramatic ways. They reveal what — and who — will matter to us, and sometimes, who lives and dies while others maintain their comfort. When the U.S. government slashed its own spending on aid earlier this year, humanitarian organizations around the world — including our partners in LWF — laid off staff, cancelled programs, and watched people die. Canada's shirking of its commitments (which have been made as recently as this year) will mean more of the same.

Second, budgets are political documents, which probably seems obvious, but here's what I mean. A budget like this one sets the bar for what Canadians will accept. When the government proposes a cut and nobody objects, it tells them that issue isn't a priority for Canadians. Big business will have its lobby in full gear, as will the mining sector, oil and gas, the tech sector, the defense industry and more. If the axe comes anywhere near those interests — they will hear from people who care. But the people we serve have no one to speak for them unless it is you and me. I'm thinking of people like Akoi Riak Akech in South Sudan, who told us the support he received has kept his five kids alive since his wife passed away.

The Church's call is steady and simple: love God, and love your neighbour. Or as the Epistle of James put it, "look after orphans and widows in their distress, and keep yourself from being polluted by the world."

I want to ask you to pray for our partners, and to pray for our leaders. And I encourage you to do one step more than that — perhaps you'd consider writing or calling your local MP to let them know: if they thought nobody would care, they're wrong. Canadian Lutherans care. Deeply. You can find your MP by postal code here: ourcommons.ca/members/en.

Thank you for standing with us in this work. Rest assured that CLWR is strong and with your support, we will be there for our global neighbours, sharing tangible hope in the name of Christ.

Blessings,

+  Michael

As we enter the season of Advent, you are invited to join National Bishop Larry Kochendorfer for an hour of devotion, reflection and conversation.

REGISTER HERE: bit.ly/4otMfZB

Join us for Conversations Across the Church on Sunday, November 30, 2025 from 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. PST for what we hope will become a regular churchwide online gathering.

Be a part of the conversation! Make sure you complete the following question on the registration form: If you could ask Bishop Larry one thing as he begins his new ministry as National Bishop, what would it be? You might hear your question asked during the gathering!

We encourage you to have a candle ready to light before the start of the event. We'll take time at the beginning to light the candle together.

*This event will be recorded. Not able to attend? Sign up so you can receive a link to the recording.
